Document360

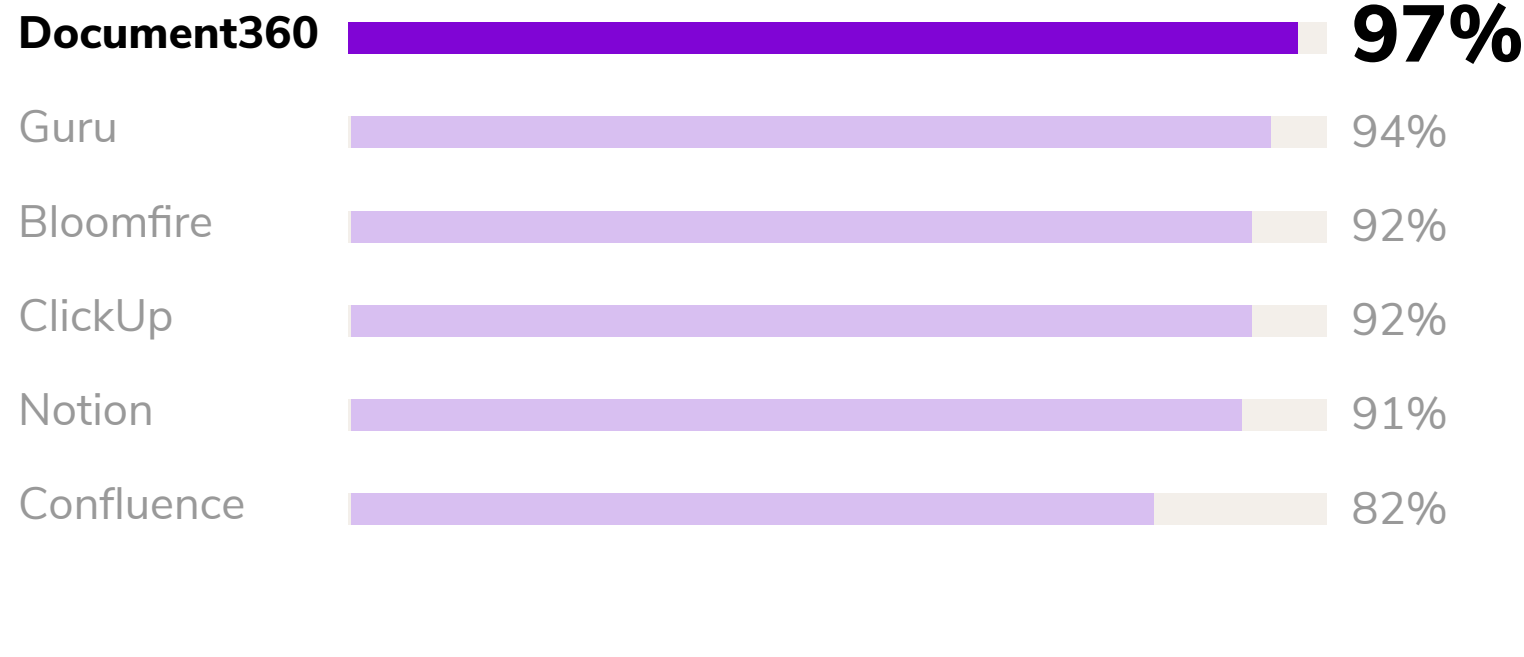

Love Document360, this platform is great for our Partner Portal and super user friendly on the backend and customer-facing. Document already solved the problem of uploading a mass amount of users at the same time.

On one hand, the tool is simple to get into and start using and on another hand it is very complex with a lot of functionalities and metric that help me get around work easier. I am in charge of a procedures database for my company and I needed a tool to help me organise all of the content I had (few hundred pages, with charts, images and data).

The feature I like the most is the web assistant. This tool allows our users to have a dynamic documentation in each of the sections of our platform in a non invasive way. The look and feel is awesome and we reduced a lot the queries made to the support team.
